

Presenter Release

Rocky Mountain University of Health Professions and The EMG Solutions Institute makes program title presentations available to participants through audio, video, and print. All Faculty Development and Continuing Education presentations are recorded for faculty enrichment. Recordings may be turned into a self-paced, asynchronous course, of which the presenter will be additionally compensated based on RMU/TESI Continuing Education program guidelines.

We request your permission to duplicate, distribute, or perform the presentation you deliver at the upcoming session in any media now existing or hereafter developed. We further request the rights to reproduce and distribute any audio, visual, or written material submitted in connection with your presentation, in whole or in part, in any media, as part of a coursebook, or any other publication which may be published under the auspices of Rocky Mountain University of Health Professions or The EMG Solutions Institute.
